

NCSJ: Advocates on behalf of Jews in Russia, Ukraine, the Baltic States & Eurasia and
Institute on Religion and Public Policy

Invite you to a breakfast and panel discussion:
“Media Strategies to Combat Anti-Semitism”

Friday, June 20      Breakfast and Registration: 8:00 – 8:30 am
Panel: 8:30-9:30 am

Bristol Salon Room, Hotel Bristol
Kaerntner Ring 1, Vienna 1015

As the OSCE Conference on Anti-Semitism prepares to address “Information and Awareness-Raising: The Role of the Media in Conveying and Countering Prejudice” (Session 4), this unofficial panel provides an expanded discussion of specific steps, difficulties, successes, and suggestions for maximizing OSCE mechanisms.

Chair

Robert J. Meth, M.D. – Chairman, NCSJ

Opening Remarks

Representative Alcee Hastings (D-Florida)
Representative Chris Smith (R-New Jersey)*      *invited

Panelists

Who shapes the public debate: Media, Governments, NGOs, and Religio-phobia

Jenny-Lee Spencer

- Vice President for European Affairs, Institute on Religion and Public Policy
- Former Political Assistant, European Parliament

Impact of popular culture

Lynsey Bartilson

- Actress, Warner Brothers “Grounded for Life”
- International Spokesperson, Youth for Human Rights
- Board Member, Institute on Religion and Public Policy

Perspective from the Successor States

Mikhail Chlenov, Ph.D.

- Secretary General, Euro-Asian Jewish Congress
- Founder, Vaad of Russia

Media Response in North America and Europe: Print, Broadcast, Internet

Ruth E. Gruber

- Senior European Correspondent, Jewish Telegraphic Agency

OPEN TO MEDIA